CITY APPENSIENT.—We have been informed, semi-officially, that the taxable property in the city limits of White Cloud amounts to just $117,000, including real and personal property—the personal property being about $46,000. Is not this a pitiful showing for a town like White Cloud! There is more than $117,000 taxable personal property in town, and twice that much real estate. Is there no remedy for this wholesale shirking! The highest limit of taxation on this amount that the law allows, will not pay the outstanding indebtedness that must be met the coming year, and there will be no means to make secessary repairs on the sirects. The few who have given a fair return year, and there will be no means to make necessary re-pairs on the streets. The few who have given a fair return of their property, will be taxed to death to make up for those who have shirked out of theirs. It goes abroad that White Cloud is burdened down with taxes, while if a half-way honest return of property were made, the rate of tax-ation would be comparatively light. When they talk of this thing or that thing injuring a town, we would like to ask what is more calculated to kill off a town than the sys-

then just beyond the Alleghamy Mountains, a distance of not over three hundred miles, and not extending beyond the advisable, and added that if the Colonel did conclude to go, he would advise him to look at his lands in the West. he would advise him to look at his lands in the West.

Sir. Your letter of the 20th ulto, came to my hands a few days are only.

Mr. Samuel Jackson iff that is the name of the person who asked me sometime in the course of last winter, if I would dispose of my hand in Fayette, & at what prices must very greatly have misunderstood my answer if he conceived thirty shillings an acre was the value I had set upon it.—

The truth is, that at no period since I dissolved my partnership with Simpson, & had any idea of parting with this, & my other Lands West of the Allegany Mountains, did I ever its a less value than forty shillings pr. acre on the tract you live.—It is not to be presumed that that I should lower the price of my land when it was energating twenty itee, fifty, and even an hundred pr. Ct. in almost every diffection.—

the price of my land when it was encreasing twenty five. fifty, and even an hundred pr. Ct. in almost every diffection.

Mr. Jackson must have mistaken the tract in Washington County for that in Favette, from the price; for thirty shillings pr. ever was the value I put on that—The conversation I had with that Gentleman was very short, for when I found he did not mean to be the purchaser himself, but was making enquiries merely to satisfy his own curiosity or to gratify that of others. I told him I had rated them at such & such prices, 40s. I think for that in Favette, and 30s. for the other; & being asked if I would allow any credit, he was mawered yes; provided a certain part of the purchase was paid at the time of ensealing and delivery; and interest padd on the rusidnes.—But he was told at parting, that as not be consider any thing that passed between na, as birding upon me at a future day.—

Mentioning this matter to a Gentleman well sequainted with the value, & prices of land in that Country, be told me he thought the land on wich you live (the whole tract I mean) would fetch Nix dolbars an acre:—accordingly, Mr. Ross of Washington (one of your Senators) has been authorised by me to sell both tracts. Not knowing therefore what he may have done in this matter. I cannot be more precesse with you, at this time.—If the land is not already under engagement, and I do not believe it is, as it is buil lately the power to dispose of it was given; it would give no pleasure that you sh'd have the perference; if Mr. Ross and you can agree on the price.—And if you would pays a fourth of the purchase down, you might have credit for the residue four.

They liked chicken, and were both passionately fond of the gizzard, both using every strategic means at his command to to as cure that article. One day they came in to dinner, after a hard fornoon's work in the harvest field. A smoking plate of chicken was on the table, and the gizzard in plain view. They sat down, Joe commencing his blessing, with his They sat down, Joe commencing his blessing, with his hadd on his fork handle, and one eye one the gizzard. Dad likewise had his hand on his fork, and his eye on the plate of chicken, calculating his chances. Joe had a set form for saying grace; but this time, he attempted to steal a march, by omitting a few words before the Amen. But Dad was looking for sharp practice, and was prepared for any emergency. The Amen came, and at the same instant both forks darted at the gizzard. Unfortunately for Dad, Dad laid down his fork with an air of resignition, mildly remarking:

"By G—d, Joney! if my fork indo't glanced on a bone, you'd never a got that gizzard!"

F George Wolf, a well-known bummer and rough of Oregon. Mo., who was for a long time petted and patron-ized by a class of citizens pretending to respectability and influence, was arrested, a few days ago, for robbing a jewelry store a short time since. A number of the stolen watches were found on his person, and others were found concealed in his house. He is in fail, and will go to the penitentiary. None of the men for whom he used to do dirty work will now go his bail.

- In the wholesale destruction of Winter wheat, the past Winter, there is here and there a spot that escaped from some mysterious came. About the only one we know of in this neighborhood, is on the farm of M. B. Bowers, where there is a piece of ten or twelve acres, which promises a fair yield. Thomas Brigham, of Padonia, informs us that he has a piece of about the same extent, which promises equally as well, but that he knows of no other in the neighborhood.

The residence of George Day, at Highland, was burned, with all or most of its contents, about midnight on Wednesslay night of last week. We understand that the property was insured. Ayer's al of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, catablishes the fact, that CHERRY PROTOGAL will and does relieve and cure the afficiting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cared by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remectly it is adequate, on which the public may roy for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious discusse, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It classlenges trial, and convinces the most acceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the narry and unperceived attacks of Pulmocary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence: and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, unaffinedes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts specifily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesque language and health-restoring sleep. chilts, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, inhorious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost to tail is spared in making every buttle in the urmost possible perfection. It may be confi-dently relied upon as possessing all the vir-tues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.
